Research Associates and Laboratory Research Associates

Introduction

Research Associates (RA) and Laboratesearch Associates (LRA) are non-employee affiliates of the College. The College sponsors types of affiliations, Research Associates and Laboratory Research Associates.

If approved by the Provost's Office, the affiliate is granted certain campus privileges, such as use of the Bryn Mawr College libraries, on-campusrking, and limited Bryn Mawr computing access.

LAs and LRAs enter into a contract with the College and must to comply with the College's guidelines, policies, and "Principles to Bryn Mawr College Workplace."

RAs and LRAs have a unique status in the @delacademic environment. As neither students nor employees, RAs and LRA may outside the academic and administrative structure with regard to supervision surance coverage, training, and records.

To the extent that LRAs work in laboratories or other facilities which present special hazards, their status presents special liabilities and comps related to injury property damage, regulatory compliance, accountability, and work with students and staff.

This policy was created as a framework for interesting persons as Rahand LRAs with Bryn Mawr College.

Definition, Application and Scope

RAs are defined as persons engaged in acadeonicat the College who are neither employees (staff, faculty, students or others receiving as aunder a College-admistered grant) nor matriculated students of the College.

LRAs are defined as persons engaged in academic work at the College who:

- x are neither employees (stataculty, students or others receiving salary under a Collegeadministered grant) nor matriculated students of the College, and,
- x are engaged in laboratory operations, showities, field investigations, or other activities deemed to present potential expostures azards in excess of those ordinarily encountered in library, classorm or office environments.

Examples include:

visiting professors who are actively employed or affiliated with other institutions and afforded access to facilities here. Tither ork may include any combination of independent research activities, assisting/collaborating with students, and instruction. Their activities at the College may or many to be officially recognized as part of the work for which they are paid by the institutions that employ them. This

- category would include faculty working the under a joint major/degree program established between the Copte and other institution(s).
- x Visiting professors here on salbibal from other institutions.
- x Persons engaged in independent research who are not affiliated with another institution, including former employees or students who who were as guests on an informal basis.
- x Persons employed in the private sector wwww.wook with faculty or who use space here under a lease agreement.
- x Persons contracted by academic departments to perform services (which, for LRAs, involve their presencien laboratories).

There are exemptions:

- x Authorized visitors, working under the direct supervision of a faculty member, engaged in a defined activity for a brief period of time (not to exceed one week). This includes students from the TRI-CO, coming to use equipment for purposes outside the scope of a Bryn Mawr course in with they are enrolled.
- x Persons or firms working under Facilities/Pursing contracts to perform such tasks as installation, repair or matenance of instruments, equipment, and facilities.

Campus Privileges

RAs and LRAs receive the following campus privileges:

- x Bryn Mawr College and Tri-ColleguLibrary borrowing privileges
- x Access to Bryn Mawr College Computing Services
- x Bryn Mawr College campus parking pass
- x A listing in the College's campus directories.

RAs/LRAs may be affiliated with a faculty member's laboratory, but should not be assigner's labors(07

The Provost's authorization may be revoked after reason, solely at the discretion of the Provost.

2) Departmental and Faculty Supervision

A reporting relationship to a faculty membienthe nominating department must be established. The designate of tilty member/supervisor without regular reviews of activities. This supervisor will also coordinate RA/LRA use of departmental space/resources with students, fellow faculty members, and entrepretation and Facilities Services, who quire access to the RA/LRA's space and equipment.

For LRAs, the designated faculty member wilhdort regular reviews of activities, equipment set-ups, and process flows, with emphasis testyschealth and envolumental aspects of the work.

3) Establishment of Records

For each RA/LRA authorized by the Provæst; onfidential file shall be established. The file shall include:

- x Personal identifiers, such as home address and phone number(s), and emergency contacts,
- x Copies of any agreements, waivers, indemnifications, leases, etc. established with affiliated institutions or employers,
- x 3URRI RI Kealth LQVXUDQFH

Each RA/LRA must complete a Non-phoyee Information sheet with Human Resources.

- 4) International Scholars International scholars being sponsored by Bryandr/ICollege as RA/LRAs must process all immigration paperwork through the Office of International Programs. RA/LRAs are non-employees. Therefore, the College doespagetany immigration-related expenses.
- 5) Indemnification / Hold Harmless Agreement RA/LRAs are required to enter into an indemnification/hold harmless agreement. The terms of the agreement may vary with the circumstances of each RA/LRA's affiliation with other employers or institutions.

7) Safety Training and Coordination (LRAs) LRAs must contact the Environmental Health and Safety Office (Safety Office) within a week of their arrival on campus to sche